

Military Services and Family Support Program

Reduce Stress
Build and Increase Support
Encourage Those Facing Change

The Military Services and Family Support Program provides free and confidential behavioral health services for military service members and their families. All active duty and retired military personnel, reservists or National Guard who have served on or after September 11, 2001 and their families are eligible.

Services include behavioral health assessments, rehabilitative support, family services and in-home visits as needed.
